

APPENDIX E

List of Potential Property Acquisitions

This appendix includes a list of the property acquisitions and displacements required by the physical improvements that comprise the Locally Preferred Alternative. This appendix includes the following information for each impacted property:

- Parcel Identification (ID) Number: Each property is given a unique parcel or tax ID number by the County Property Assessor. These ID numbers can be used to look up additional information about the following impacted properties at the websites:
 - For properties in Washington: <http://gis.clark.wa.gov/>
 - For properties in Oregon: <http://www.portlandmaps.com/>
- Site Address: This address locates the property impacted, not that of the property owner. Not all properties are assigned addresses by the County Property Assessor.
- Neighborhood: The neighborhood boundaries used to determine the neighborhoods in which properties are located were provided by the City of Vancouver and City of Portland.
- Zoning: The zoning of each property was obtained from the County Property Assessor.
- Primary Parcel Use: Use of the parcel was determined through a variety of methods including site visits and online research.
- Type of Impact: There are five types of impacts included in this appendix.
 1. Permanent partial and full property acquisitions: Full acquisitions would occur when the entire property is acquired from the property owner, whereas partial acquisitions would occur when only a portion of the property needs to be purchased.
 2. Temporary Construction Easements: Temporary construction easements of varying sizes (partial or full) may be required from certain properties. Property owners would be compensated for this temporary use, and property that is used would be returned to its original or an improved condition.
 3. Permanent Easements: The acquisition of land, or space underground (subsurface) or in the air (airspace), could be required for the long-term maintenance of the new or improved facilities. A permanent easement could be obtained that would grant the agency certain rights, such as access, to the property, subsurface, or airspace, but not ownership.
 4. Access: Access impacts could include the permanent closure of accesses or the modification of access to right-in/right-out only following construction.
 5. Displacements: Certain uses – businesses, residences, outbuildings, etc. – may be displaced from properties included in this appendix. The estimated numbers of structures, businesses, and residences displaced at the time of publication are provided.

In addition to displaced residences associated with real property, displaced floating homes (personal property) have also been added to this appendix. Please note that as floating homes are personal property, they do not have the same property information as real property. What information is available has been included. Also, floating homes would only be acquired if, at the time of negotiations, it was determined that there were not enough appropriate vacant slips into which all of the displaced homes could be relocated.

- LPA Options: This column provides information as to whether the property acquisition and/or displacement listed is associated with Option A or Option B of the LPA, or both.
- LPA Phasing: This column indicates whether properties would be avoided if the LPA were constructed with highway phasing, as opposed to the full build LPA.

Every effort was made to ensure that the information provided about each property in this appendix was accurate at the time of publication of the FEIS, but it is subject to change. Certain property characteristics, such as use, are relatively dynamic. Additionally, the acquisitions reported in this appendix are based on early engineering designs. These designs will continue to be refined to avoid or minimize property acquisitions. Those acquisitions that cannot be avoided would be appropriately mitigated or compensated. For more information regarding potential measures to mitigate or compensate acquisition impacts please see Section 3.3, Property Acquisitions and Displacements.

a Floating homes are personal property, not real property, and therefore are not associated with the same property information (e.g., personal property does not have a specific zoning designation like real property).

b Floating homes would only be acquired if, at the time of negotiations, there were not enough appropriate vacant slips into which to relocate these homes.
